

1. Apollo-11

- ① Link: <https://github.com/chrislgarry/Apollo-11>
- ② This is a project to archive and be a repo for the Original Apollo 11 guidance computer (AGC) source code for Command Module and Lunar Module.
- ③ This project is public domain. Which means that it doesn't have a copyright.

2. my-star-dev-list

- ① Link: <https://github.com/taegon/my-star-dev-list>
- ② This is a project that sorts Korean developers by teagon's view.
- ③ This project is public domain. Which means that it doesn't have a copyright.

3. fzf

- ① <https://github.com/junegunn/fzf>
- ② This is a project for an interactive Unix filter. It can be used in general way; files, command history, processes, hostnames, bookmarks, git commits, etc. It is one of the most famous projects that Korean developer made in GitHub.
- ③ This project has MIT license. It means that everyone can use this software for no cost unless the user doesn't submit the license and the author.

4. vim-plug

- ① <https://github.com/junegunn/vim-plug>
- ② This is a project for expanding the functions of vim, which is one of the most used text editor by developers.
- ③ This project has MIT license. It means that everyone can use this software for no cost unless the user doesn't submit the license and the author.

5. Awesome-CV

- ① <https://github.com/posquit0/Awesome-CV>
- ② This is a project for writing resume by LaTeX, which is usually used for printing papers.
- ③ This project has LPPL 1.3c as a license. It is made for LaTeX system. Software under this license can be regarded as free software. But it is not copylefted.